Veterinary Hospital

Local care from dedicated professionals

Welcome to your new veterinary hospital!

With the expansion of Aylesbury and with us wanting to continue to provide our clients and their pets the best service possible in the future, we have out grown our current hospital facilities at Cambridge Street. We have therefore decided to build a new one!

Why remain in the Town Centre?

This location provides equal access for all of our clients in and around Aylesbury. Although we did look at other sites, none were suitable.

When will the building start?

Building work is due to start in September 2008

When will it be ready?

We aim to open the new hospital in early Summer 2009.

Will the role of the hospital change?

We are one of only a few veterinary hospitals in the whole of the UK, which means in addition to meeting the requirements of a general practice, we also provide:

- 24 hour on-site nursing care.
- An extended range of services, facilities & equipment.
- Our own fully diagnostic laboratory, staffed by qualified micro-biologists and technicians that can carry out tests quickly, enabling a rapid start to treatment.

The new hospital will continue to focus on inpatient care and emergencies, whilst our local branch surgeries will continue to provide dedicated local care for your pets for routine examinations and vaccinations etc.

The new hospital will allow us to take the care of your pets to an even higher level, provide our staff with a much improved working environment, and ensure we meet the future strict high standards for veterinary practices being laid down by the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons.

Where will my pets be looked after whilst the hospital is being built?

We will continue to provide the same high standard of care at the current hospital, with some additional specially equipped temporary buildings. Clients will be able to use the old cinema car park opposite to drop off and pick-up their pets. The new hospital will also have its own dedicated client car parking.

Where can I find more information?

Information boards will be set-up in each of our branches and the current hospital waiting room. Information will also be placed on our website.
